Violation Number Nature of Noncompliance

- | | |
|---|---|
| 1 | On January 29, 2021, Williams was arrested by the South Hackensack Police Department and charged with resisting arrest, eluding police, possession of a controlled dangerous substance, and several traffic citations. According to police reports and statements by police, Williams was a passenger in a vehicle police had pulled over for a traffic stop. During the traffic stop, Williams moved into the driver's seat and sped off. Williams traveled a short distance before crashing into a light pole at a gas station. Williams then fled on foot before collapsing to the ground. Police quickly realized he was overdosing and administered Narcan. Williams regained consciousness and admitted he had been using heroin. A second dose of Narcan was administered while he was en route to the hospital. On January 30th, Williams was discharged from the hospital and transferred to the Bergen County Jail. On February 1st, Williams was released from custody. The charges remain pending at the New Jersey Superior Court (Bergen County). |

U.S. Probation Officer Action:

Our office recommends withholding Court action at this time. Williams is expected to enter residential inpatient drug treatment at Maryville, Inc, to address his drug addiction. Williams appears determined and motivated in bettering himself. We will keep the Court apprised of Williams' pending charges and any additional instances of noncompliance.

Respectfully submitted,

SUSAN M. SMALLEY, Chief
U.S. Probation Officer
